A Pre-Election Survey: Why Princeton's Districts Vote as They Do

When you vote Tuesday, you'll vote in your own Election District. As candidates and party workers will tell you, each District has its own unique character, and more importantly, its own peculiar mix of Democrats, Republicans and, Princeton being the town it is, independents.

Borough District 1, for example, is a University district and strongly Democratic incorporating University Place, Dickenson, the dorms; in fact, the Democratic committeeman is a student. Actually, the percentage of student registered voters isn't large because politically active students like to vote absentee, in home-towns.

District 2 has "more PhDs than any district in the U.S.," according to one party worker. Voters rent University housing on FitzRandolph and Broadmead, and houses the University has bought on Murray Place. Turnover here is very high, as faculty move off to Harvard or wherever, and voter registration lists are almost always out of date. It's a Democratic district: Republicans didn't even have committee people here for some years.

In District 3, the Borough has a mix of suburban commuters and skilled workers and one campaigner calls it the most cosmopolitan district in the Borough. On Erdman Avenue and Ewing, Hamilton and Harriet Drive and parts of Snowden, live members of the police force, lawyers, plumbers, doctors, dentists and many life-long Princetonians who are volunteer firemen. Sometimes known as a bellwether district, it tends to vote Republican at the local level, although it went Democratic last year, a victory year for Borough Democrats.

This district will probably be divided after Queenston Common is fully occupied; it has grown from 600 voters to 771 in eight years, and with the bulge of Queenston will be too bulky.

"Tree street" District 4 includes Chestnut, Pine and streets named for trees. "A striking change here—no other Borough district has had such an increase in registered voters," one campaigner says, checking over the lists. In the '68 Presidential year, 490 registered; last year, 635. Once known as a conservative Democratic stronghold, it is changing as young University families buy up the pleasant old houses, but it is still clearly Democratic—over 50 percent so. The district also has many student voters, groups of students who rent whole houses once occupied by "old Princeton families."

Diversity characterizes District 5. Graduate students living over the stores on Nassau, elderly voters on Madison and Wiggins, young commuters on Jefferson Road. Here again is the District 4 phenomenon: groups of student or other academic people renting the big old houses that once were single-family.

District 6 is where most of the Borough's black voters live, in the John Street-Witherspoon Street area. Many families of Italian descent live here, too, and it's a Democratic district. In Presidential years, its turn-out is as high as 86 percent.

"A crazy district to work" is one campaigner's comment on District 7: Very Republican tenants of Palmer Square apartments, black residents on Green Street, renters on Humbert and Greenview. Few of the voters are young, and registration is stable.

District 8, with 811 registered voters is the biggest in the Borough, encompassing the Republican Gold Coast Western Section around Westcott Road. The "Stanworth" apartments are here, with single people or childless couples. As its older residents leave, "Stanworth" becomes more and more Democratic workers say.

In District 9, are the modest single-family homes and rentals of Markham Road, Sergeant Street, Harrison, but also what party officials like to call "prosperous suburbia."

The Borough's newest district is District 10, and 1973 is its first year. The area used to be District 1, and was split off when student registration made a single district too large.

Similar to Eight in socio-economic composition, it includes parts

Gubernatorial Race Tops Off-Year Election

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES PLAN RALLY: Brendon Byrne, seeking the governorship, discusses plans for a Democratic rally in Palmer Square at noon this Wednesday. Left to right are Anne Mortindell, candidate for the State Senate; Judge Byrne, and Joseph Moore and Martin Lombardo, candidates for re-election to Borough Council.

On Election Day next Tuesday, Princeton's voters will choose two of their neighbors to represent them on local governing bodies, four Mercer County officials including a sheriff, two legislators, one state senator and a governor. Also, if they have the stamina and the will, they will select nine members of a group which will examine county government.

Incidentally, it's the first time in more than a century that Borough voters haven't made a biennial choice for mayor. Two years ago, under man is not running for mayor, only for a seat on Committee. In the Township, the mayor is elected by Committee members from the majority party. Mr. Bleiman has been mayor this year because Democrats have a 3-2 majority on Committee.

If both Republicans win and the majority shifts, presumably Barbara Smoyer, as senior Republican on Committee, would become mayor. She would be Princeton's first woman mayor.

Republican incumbent Sanford C. Reynolds Jr. is running for a one-year seat on Committee opposed by Democratic challenger Ellen Peterson. Mr. Reynolds was appointed to the seat vacated by James A. Floyd but to retain it for Mr. Floyd's full term, which expires next year, he must win it in an election.

County. At the Mercer County level, voters are asked to choose three Freeholders — members of the board that administers county affairs. Democrats Gilbert W. Lugosy, Paul J. Sollami and Albert E. Driver Jr. are running against Republicans John O. Davies III, Thomas W. O'Neil and Richard J. Piepszak. Democrat Charles Kovacs is running for sheriff against Republican Frank E. Hutchinson Jr.

State. In the New Jersey State Legislature, Republican incumbents Walter E. Foran and Karl Weidel are running against Democrats Michael G.

Morris and Ted M. Yim, for seats in the General Assembly.

At the Senate level, Princeton resident Anne C. Mortindell, Democrat, is challenging Republican incumbent William E. Schluter.

And at the top of the ballot, Democrat Brendan T. Byrne is running for Governor against Charles W. Sandman Jr., for the four-year term, and a term-long lease on "Morven," the gubernatorial mansion on Stockton Street.

CALL TOWN TOPICS, 924-2200

With Republican ranks split sharply over the arch conservatism of Mr. Sandman, Judge Byrne is expected to win by a wide margin.

Issues. Three questions will confront the voter:

- Approval of a $25 million bond issue to provide facilities for educating severely handicapped children. At present, New Jersey pays each school district one-half the cost of placing handicapped children. Tuitions in special schools are very high — sometimes $4,000 a year — and the state has found itself paying out around $20 million a year.

Meeting these needs locally, with new buildings, would not only mean long-term savings, educators say, but better quality in the schools.

- Approval of a constitutional amendment allowing six-member juries in all civil cases regardless of the dollar amount involved.

- Approval of a Charter Study Commission to study Mercer County governmental structure and make recommendations on whether to change it.

On the ballot are 38 names of people running for the Charter Study Commission. Among the 38 are Princeton residents Barbara R. Diamond, Thomas Pyle, A. C. Reeves Hicks, W. Harry Sayen, Robert R. Richard, Catherine L. McGrath, Harry Heher Jr., and residents of the area Nancy H. Schluter, Eric B. Bolusky, M. Patricia Tinsley, James E. McGuire, and Lawrence E. Roessel.

four years. Faculty live

In District 4, are Italian families on Ewing and Termine, split levels north of Princeton High, two-family rentals and long-time owners on Moore and Jefferson. It's a varied district, including high school-age voters and elderly registrants who've lived here a long time. Houses and doorbells are close together,
and one campaigner says,
"It's an easy district to work."

Some Areas Mixed. In District 5, there is a heavily Democratic core on Clover Lane and Deerpath. Rolling-mead is probably Republican.
Roper, Random and Locust are "mixed," but overall, the district is regarded as Democratic.

Six is a swing district and one worker says "We work like the devil here!" Affluent commuters on spacious Braeburn and Leabrook tend to be Republican, but the small-home owners on Clearview, North Harrison and Dorann are more Democratic. Grover Avenue is often thought of as conservative Democrat, with many long-time residents of Princeton registered here. The district is probably the largest in the Township, in terms of registered voters.

District 7 voters usually pull Republican levers. But Laurel, Crestview, Balcort are quite different, with their large homes, from the older Mt. Lucas area. As the Seminary's lots on upper Mt. Lucas gradually fill, this district will really grow.

District 8 is more heavily Republican than it used to be because the part that was split off to make 13, had the Democrats. It's a huge district, geographically; candidates mount bicycles or climb cars to cover Tenacre, Brookstone Drive, Stuart Road, Pheasant Hill, Rosedale. The nuns of Our Lady of Princeton on Drakes Corner are registered voters, and... it's a strongly anti-hunting district, one of Princeton's most rural.

"Full of independents, who vote person rather than party," a district which can really swing between the two parties, is one characterization of District 9, whose border is Riverside Drive. Many University voters live here, in private lakeside homes.

A "young" district — that's District 10. Voters move in with little children, then are transferred out of town from homes on Caldwell or Dodds Lane. Lots of 18-year-olds here, with 16 and 17-year-olds coming along. In fact, Districts 8, 9, 10 and 11 are full of college-age voters. Party workers say it's one of the most heavily Republican districts in the Township.

District 11 may be "The most Republican," incorporating Rosedale, Galbreath Drive, Edgerstoun and the roads around the Hun School.
Many new young voters here provide lots of college-absentee ballots. Their parents moved to this district in the 1950's when its houses were fairly reasonable in cost, and these families have stayed; there's little turnover in houses on Edgerstoun.

District 12 is heavy with Democrats. Here are the junior faculty apartments on the lake, without the turnover that marks graduate-student voters. Candidates in both parties doorbells the Hibben and Magie apartments, and find more concern about local issues — sewers, for example, on the part of young couples who may one day own a Princeton home — than they find with grad students.

Variety again, in District 13, which is District 8 cut in half, assigned Ridgeview Circle and Stuart Road (Republican),
Morgan Place and Mountain Avenue (some Democrats).
Stuart School nuns live in this district.

"There's a lot of independent voting in Princeton," a veteran campaign worker says, "voters split their tickets all the time, but less so in the University districts.
Switching from party-to-party
— it's a Princeton custom."

APPROVAL SOUGHT

For One-Plant Sewage Treatment. The one-plant proposal of the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority has been forwarded to Federal officials by the state. Authority chairman Ezra Bixby said this week as he issued a statement on the Authority's reasons for its one-plant stand.

Township Mayor Jay Bleiman told a Tuesday press conference he hopes the Federal Environmental Protection Agency will have comments on the plan by November 27, when the Authority meets, and he urged proponents of a three-plant system to prepare "a position paper" for that meeting.

Will the plan, to build one sewage-treatment plant instead of three, cause population concentration, congestion and pollution that wouldn't have occurred otherwise?

That's the key question Federal officials will ask, Mayor Bleiman reported, quoting Gerald Hansler, who directs the Federal EPA office in New York. It's a new Federal guideline requiring investigation of "secondary environmental impacts."

Land Control Charged. Mr. Bixby and the Authority call it "an attempt to control land use through control of sewers." The Authority doesn't feel population concentration would be any less if three plants were built, rather than one. Whether Federal officials would require the "secondary impact" study for a three-plant system, is not known.

The single plant can be so designed that no connections can be made into it, Mr. Bix-

Marvel to Resign from School Board

William W. Marvel will resign from the Princeton Regional Board of Education in mid December and will probably make a public announcement of his resignation on November 27. Dr. Marvel is resigning because he now works in Philadelphia and plans to live there. He was not in town to comment on his resignation plans.

wanted was unable to accept. "Dr. Marvel has been most co-operative," Mrs. Fox commented.

Board president Hannah Fox said Dr. Marvel will not be replaced, since his term expires in February. Under New Jersey law, a school board does not have to replace a member if the resignation occurs within 60 days of the February elections.

Mrs. Fox said that if the school board had been able unanimously to select a replacement, Dr. Marvel would have resigned earlier. As it was, board members did agree unanimously on a candidate, but the person they by said, as a way of slowing down population growth. The service contract among the six municipalities of the Authority specifies that no connections can be made into the sewer without Authority permission. "and this language can be made as tight as necessary to satisfy environmental concerns and prevent any one municipality from succumbing to population pressures."

Two other criteria will be considered by Federal officials, Mr. Hansler told Mayor Bleiman: does the plan meet water-quality standards and is it "cost-effective?" Eventually, the mayor warned, a balance might have to be reached between cost and environmental impact.

But since there isn't any more Federal money for collector lines to tie into the system, the one-plant three plant question may be academic for a long time, Mr. Bixby warned. Collector lines will be required by communities like Pennington, the Hopewells and West Windsor so they can attach themselves to the sewer.

Dry Season a Problem. Mr. Hansler told Mayor Bleiman Federal money was available only for purposes of improving water-quality, not for laying new collector systems. This remark led the mayor to hope Princeton might get Federal funds for correcting its infiltration system.

In its statement, the Authority says it prefers a one-plant system because under a three-plant system, two of the plants would discharge treated sew-

Other new police regulations prohibit parking against buildings and criss-crossing through the lot. Drivers must stay in designated roadways; this will stop all the cutting through, said Sgt. Nini.

For the next 10 or so days police will issue warning no tickets to cars illegally parked or to drivers observed in a violation. Among the items listed in the notices are speeding, parking the wrong way, parking out of a parking stall, parked in a no parking area. Future violations will result in citations. age into Stony Brook. In dry seasons, this would mean the brook's flow would consist "at most entirely of undiluted sewage effluent."

Also, although a one plant system would cost $49.4 million, compared to $45.5 million for the three-plant option, the difference would be offset by the increased operating costs of the three-plant system, the Authority estimates.

A three plant solution, Mr. Bixby and the Authority comment, would "make a mockery" of the whole concept of a regional system.

signed from the position and the case is now in charge of Assistant Prosecutor Richard M. Altman. Gerald R. Stockman is the defense attorney.

Further complications may develop if Andrew J. Smithson is named to succeed Mr. Schragger as prosecutor. His name has been submitted to Gov. William T. Cahill for appointment, but he is a member of Mr. Stockman's law firm.

Mr. Carpi was charged with the murder of his wife in 1971. It was in February of that year that she disappeared from her home on State Road 206, and six months later her body was taken out of the East River in New York.

CORVETTE HITS POLE

Princeton Youth Injured. Bryce Maxwell, 19, of 19 McCosh Circle, was admitted to the intensive care unit at Hellen Fuld Hospital in Trenton Sunday afternoon after his Corvette sports car hit a utility pole at 135 Franklin Corner Road in Lawrence Township. His condition was described as critical.

A passenger in the car, Richard T. Hornyak, 37, of Hamilton Township, was pronounced dead on arrival at the same hospital at 5:05. According to police, the sports car rammed the pole so hard that its roof was torn off and its engine flew out.

Traffic Officer III, Salvatore Scibetta, 59, 435 Sked Street, Pennington, was hit by a car Monday afternoon around 4:30 while he was directing traffic in the rain at Alexander Street and Faculty Road. He was treated at Princeton Medical Center for contusions and abrasions of the left hand and leg.

The driver, Mein R. Chi, 26, of the Graduate College, told police he saw the officer signal him to stop but when he applied his brakes his car began to slide. He struck the officer with his left front fender, he said. Ptl. Jerry Offredo is continuing the police investigation.

Fractures Shoulder. Gina Caruso, 12, 31 Linden Lane, was treated at the Medical Center early Saturday afternoon for a fractured left shoulder and abrasions and contusions which she received when her bicycle collided with a car at Nassau and Linden Lane.

Patricia E. Greene, 26, of Drexel Hill, Pa., the driver, told police that the girl had come from Linden Lane and had cut in front of her car. The bicyclist almost succeeded in getting by in time but its rear fender caught the front fender of the car. Sgt. Robert Anderson ticketed the driver for violation of a conditional license.

TWO SCALES RECOVERED Stolen From Frick Lab. The investigation Thursday of a breaking and entering of a Greenwood Avenue, Trenton, apartment has led to the recovery of two balance scales stolen a week earlier from Frick Hall on the Princeton University campus.

Touring Russians Play Frisbee at PHS

WELCOME, RUSSIANS! Two Princeton high teachers—Mory Perpetuo and Ronald Gendasek (both on left) chat with two of the visitors from the Soviet Union who spent a day in Princeton High last week. The visitors didn't speak English, but they welcomed Mr. Gendasek's fluent Russian.

Not Russian roulette, but Soviet-style frisbee played on the front lawn of Princeton High School — that was part of the day-long visit to Princeton High made last week by 15 Soviet citizens.

The visitors were part of a larger group of 30 selected to tour the United States as guests of the Institute of International Education. The 15 who came to Princeton spent three days here on a schedule coordinated by the Russian department at Princeton University.

The idea of visiting PHS was to see one aspect of day-by-day American life. The visitors expressed astonishment at the openness of the school and the wide variety of course offerings. In the U.S.S.R., almost all students follow a more rigid program.

The visitors trooped through the halls, attending classes and a choir rehearsal. They watched a class in modern dance, visited shops, explored the Media Center and observed a Student Council meeting.

At lunch time, they ate steak sandwiches in the PHS cafeteria, and after lunch, they played frisbee before going on to the Institute for Advanced Study.

Principal George Petrillo was host at a reception held in the PHS Home Economics Room, and attended by administration and teachers. Since none of the 15 guests spoke English, Ronald Gendasek, who teaches Russian at PHS, acted as interpreter. He also recalled, from his own visit to the U.S.S.R., the differences between American and Soviet education.

The Soviet guests included a journalist, physicist, doctor of medicine, a tractor operator, the director of a collective farm and a high school biology teacher.

AN OPEN LETTER TO REPRESENTATIVE FRELINGHUYSEN IN WASHINGTON

Dear Mr. Frelinghuysen:

Now that President Nixon has refused to turn over the tapes to the court, has fired Archibald Cox, and has abolished the office of special prosecutor, he has demonstrated, in our opinion, his contempt for the courts of the land and for the rule of law over all citizens. We urge you to vote for impeachment of Mr. Nixon.

the apartment which the owner said he had never seen before. The two 40-pound scales with a value of $1330 were traced to Frick Lab.

University Security told Borough police that four of the scales valued at $2600 had been stolen from Room 33 of Frick Hall between October 19-22. The room had been left locked but there were no signs of any forced entry.

The other two scales are still missing. Det. Thomas Michaud is continuing the investigation.

IMPEACHMENT URGED

By Ad Hoc Committee. After President Nixon's sudden reversal last week of his decision to withhold Watergate tapes from the Federal court, the Princeton University-based Ad Hoc Committee for the Impeachment of the President met to restate and clarify its official position.

It did not change much. The committee's official position statement, issued after last Wednesday's meeting, reads:

"The Committee believes that there are sufficient grounds for the continuation of the impeachment process, and to this end we encourage the House Judiciary Committee to continue its consideration of the articles of impeachment.

"We also believe that the judicial investigation should be continued by a Congressionally appointed special prosecutor, independent of executive authority, with full in-

"Feisty Walter S. Taylor, the black sheep of the New York State wine industry, operates high above Lake Keuka, just down the road from Dr. Konstantin Frank. Mr. Taylor is a restless 41-year-old 6-footer and, after Dr. Frank, is the best-known figure in New York's winemaking business."

"Walter Taylor caused a stir in wine circles 5 years ago when he criticized his fellow New York winemakers—including his family's Taylor Wine Company—for doctoring their product with water and California wines. He began making his own wines, and most critics agree that these efforts have been very successful."

NEXT, AT INTIME

Two, Off-Off Broadway. A pair of off-off Broadway plays will be offered by Theatre In time in Murray Theatre for two weekends, opening Thurs day, November 8.

"Balls" and "The Succes- ful Life of 3" are the progra- Director S. Chris Talbott says the plays are quite different in tone, but complementary in style, approaching the same theatrical problems from two points of view.

The dual bill will play Thursday, Friday and Satur- day, November 8, 9, and 10, and the same days the follow- ing week. Reservations may be made at 452-8181.

PLAYHOUSE

Romeo and Juliet. First seen in Princeton in February, 1969, this exciting interpretation of the old classic by Italian di- rector Franco Zeffrelli has been re-issued. The film swirls with color, movement and ex- citement — with the animal spirits and brashness of youth. Here are no languishing, sigh- ing lovers.

Olivia Hussey, said to have been only 15 when she played the role, is the youngest ac- tress ever to have undertaken the part of Juliet profession- ally. Leonard Whiting is said to have been only 17 when the film was made. Zeffrelli has been able to draw from these youngsters performances with a touching childlike quality, yet with an intensity and sex- uality that makes plausible the tragic train of events.

He has taken many liberties with Shakespeare in an effort to stress its relevance to con- temporary problems. The scene is mid 15th century Italy, rather than Shakespeare's Elizabethan 16th century, en- abling the film to capitalize on the richness of Italian Renais- sance costumes, interiors and architecture.

John McEnery's flashing performance at Mercutio sometimes steals the show. Michael York as Tybalt and Milo O'Shea as Friar Laur- ence are excellent. In all, it's a version of "Romeo and Ju- liet" with which young people can identify.

MONTGOMERY

Blame In Love. A pleasant study of a man's love for his ex-wife that meanders too much. The film's top virtues are the performances of George Segal, Susan Anspach and Kris Kristofferson. Miss Anspach's hippie lover.

This comedy-drama by Paul Mazursky, who wrote Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice, is a potentially fascinating study of emerging maturity and in- dividuality but it is flawed by poor editing and Mazursky's in- ability to end scenes which go on forever. At first "Blame" is sweet and moving; then Mazursky holds on so long that it curdles.

The basic plot is a familiar one: husband and wife get a divorce because their mar- riage has become too distant and complacent and then spend the rest of the film re- discovering their love and in- dividuality.

This type of thing has been done in the past with such stars as Irene Dunne and Katharine Hepburn when it was treated rather frivolously. Now in these days of wom- en's liberation, dramas about marriage are more interesting because marriage itself is much more precarious. In this respect, the film is much more relevant.

As the frustrated wife, Miss Anspach, seen mostly through fragmented encounters with her lovelorn ex, is the film's most interesting — and more neglected — character. But the breadth of her character is not allowed to develop. So while the film is tantalizing, it falls short of being reward- ing (R)

Brandenburg Gives an Impeccable Performance

The Brandenburg Ensemble made its first appearance in Princeton on Monday night as Series II began the 1973-74 McCarter concert season.

The ensemble is relatively young, but musically quite mature. Its director and conductor, Alexander Schneider, has had a distinguished career as a violin soloist, member of the legendary Budapest Quartet and more recently, one of the co-directors of the Music from Marlboro foundation.

Virtually all of the members of the Brandenburg Ensemble are associated with this renowned musical organization (Music from Marlboro) and several of the group have appeared on the stage of 10 McCosh Hall numerous times as participants in the excellent chamber music series held there four times each year. The soloists on Monday night's program included Peter Serkin, piano; Hiroko Yajima and Kishiko Suzumi, violins; and Renee Siebert, flute. Alexander Schneider and Miss Yajima also appeared as violists along with Jerry Grossman, cello, and Julius Levine, bass, and Jens Nygaard, harpsichord.

The program, devoted exclusively to music of the high Baroque era, included the Concerto in E Major, F. XI:18, Concerto in D Minor for Two Violins, F. I:100, the Sinfonia in B Minor ("Al Santo Sepolero"), F. XI:7, the Concerto in E Major ("Il Riposo"), F. I:4 and the Concerto in C Minor for Flute and Strings, F. VI:11, all by Antonio Vivaldi (1678-1741). Two masterpieces by Bach rounded out the program; the Piano Concerto No. 1 in D Minor, BWV 1052 and the Brandenburg Concerto No. 6 in Bb Major, BWV 1051.

Princeton audiences have been exposed to much fine string playing during the past decade and more, but never in this reviewer's tenure, has he listened to an entire evening of such impeccable string ensemble performances. Mr. Schneider has taken some of the most talented young string artists of the under-thirty generation and has taught them the essence of string playing to perfection. All the nuances of the concerto-grosso style were rendered flawlessly; the canonic, the sequential and the dialogues between the solo instruments (concertino) shaped into jewels of sound at its finest.

Some of the finest playing I have ever heard with respect to duet playing in the concerto grosso idiom occurred between Miss Yajima and Miss Suzumi in the Vivaldi D Minor

MUSIC In Princeton

Concerto. One could not ask for more understanding and balanced phrasing of a musical dialogue. The ensemble in its fullness produced a richness of sonority that never overshadowed the soloists and the tempi never lagged nor rushed.

The piano may have been the culprit in the Bach D Minor Concerto. Mr. Serkin did not always appear to have command of the tricky and intricate passage work Bach provides in the outer movements, but then the instrument he was playing did not seem to respond to his touch at key points in the music. The marvelous thing, however, about the performance of this piece was the ensemble's ability to produce a brilliant, full-bodied sound around the rather robust piano part that could have all but eclipsed the strings during the louder passages.

In listening to much of this music, all from relatively the same thirty or forty year period in music history, one is overwhelmed by the harmonic richness of Vivaldi's art and the rhythmic drive and syncopated motive structure (worthy of Stravinsky — or perhaps the other way around) in the Bach concerti. There are passages in the Vivaldi that remind one faintly of Wagnerian chromaticism at times, but of course in a much more controlled and elegant baroque demeanor.

The Brandenburg No. 6 brought out a treasure chest of violas for the concluding offering. Mr. Schneider and Miss Yajima performed the solo viola parts along with Mr. Grossman on cello and Mr. Levine on bass. One could not remember hearing a more brilliant collection of viola sonorities, precise rhythmic execution throughout the piece and musical clarity.

This was a concert that will stand out in this writer's memory as one of the best in McCarter's history. It displayed examples of Vivaldi's canon of concerti that one seldom hears or recognizes and by so doing made us all the richer for our aesthetic experience.

A final word: Could McCarter Theater not arrange for its stage hands to appear a bit more well groomed? Enough said!

BAROQUE MUSIC PLANNED

For Concert Series, The opening concert in this year's Trinity All Saints' series will be Sunday at 8 p.m. at Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street.

The Collegium Musicum of Princeton will present a program of baroque music by J. S. Bach, Albinoni, Couperin and Handel. Five solo instrumentalists will be featured under the direction of Joseph Kovacs.

Mr. Kovacs will be joined by his wife, Dorothy Kovacs, flute, in the opening work, the Sonata in G Major by Bach for flute, violin and continuo. Mrs. Kovacs has played with the Princeton Symphony Orchestra and now teaches at Westminster Choir College.

James Litton, organist and choirmaster of Trinity Church, is the organist in Handel's Concerto No. 1 in G Minor.

Jean Thompson, faculty member at Westminster, plays the cello solos in Couperin's five "Pieces en Concert."

Martha Helms, who plays in three area orchestras and also in the Trenton State College Woodwind Quintet, is the soloist in Albinoni's Concerto in D Minor for oboe and strings.

The program will close with a second solo performance by Director Kovacs, in Bach's Violin Concerto No. 2 in E Major.

"Music-at-McCarter" Single tickets for the public are now on sale at McCarter for the Music-at-McCarter series, scheduled to start Monday, November 26, at 8 p.m. with pianist Vladimir A. Khenazy.

Next, pianist Misha Dichter on January 21, followed by flautist Jean Pierre Rampal on February 18. He will perform with harpsichordist Robert Veyron-Lacroix.

Julian Bream, lutenist and guitarist, will return for his sixth visit on March 4, followed by pianist Andre Watts. A full production of Gagliano's 17th century opera, "La Dafne" will be presented April 2 by New York Pro Musica, and the Guarneri Quartet will close the series April 15.

SERIES I TO START

With English Sinfonia. The English Sinfonia, conducted by Neville Dikkes, with world-renowned Harpist, Nicanor Zabaleta, and John Solum, Flutist, as soloists, will appear at McCarter Theatre on Monday at 8:30 p.m. It will be the first concert in Series I for this season's Princeton University Concerts.

The program will be, Haydn: "Symphony No. 44 in E Minor"; Debussy: "Danse Sacree et Danse Profane"; Ravel: "Introduction and Allegro"; Benjamin Britten: "Variations on a Theme of Frank Bridge for String Orchestra, Opus 10"; Mozart: "Concerto in C Major for Flute, Harp and Orchestra, K. 299".

Formed in 1961 by its conductor, Neville Dikkes, the English Sinfonia has been adopted by the city of Nottingham. Actvilly, however, extends throughout England and through its tours, its frequent visits to London's Queen Elizabeth Hall and its recordings for E.M.I., the Sinfonia has developed a name for itself as "a first-class orchestra, able to challenge the country's best" (Financial Times, London).

Mr. Dikkes has in the space of a few years established himself as one of the most active and successful of the younger generation of British-born conductors. In addition to his busy schedule with the Sinfonia, he has appeared as guest conductor with many orchestras throughout Europe.

The world famous harpist, Nicanor Zabaleta, was born in San Sebastian, Spain and began his musical studies at age 6. Later, his musical education was developed in Paris, where he studied harp with Marcel Tournier.

After his successes in Europe, Zabaleta took his harp and his career to Latin America and to the United States.

Tickets at $6.50 and $5 are available at the McCarter Theatre Box Office. Student tickets at $2 are available one hour before concerts at the theatre.

RECITAL SCHEDULED

By Leslie Parnas. The second concert of the season at the Jewish Community Center will be held Saturday, November 10, at 8:30 p.m. Featured soloist will be Leslie Parnas in a recital of works for cello and piano accompaniment.

Mr. Parnas is making a return appearance at the Jewish Community Center. He teaches at Boston University and is the cellist of the Lincoln Center Chamber Music Society. A first prize winner in the Tchaikovsky competition in Moscow, he is now in the midst of an established career as a solo and chamber music artist.

Coinciding with the concert will be the opening of a new art exhibit by Elinor Levy and Judith Gross. Mrs. Levy's works are in oil and water. Mrs. Gross has wall hangings in needlepoint, prints and collages.

A Champagne Reception will follow the concert during which everyone will have a time to meet and speak with all the artists.

Individual admissions are $4; students and senior citizens $2.

TENOR IN RECITAL

At Seminary on Friday, M. Barry White, a tenor from Detroit, who is enrolled in the Master of Divinity program at Princeton Theological Seminary, will present a free public concert in the Seminary's Campus Center Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Friday.

Mr. White, who gave his first recital at the age of 4, has appeared in more than 100 recitals throughout the country. A native of Detroit, he graduated from Wayne State University last year at the age of 18, with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English. He has studied voice for the past 16 years, first under Ouida White and then with Carlotta Pranzel, both of Detroit.

The November 2 program includes "The Lord's Prayer" in a setting by Malotte, "O Lord Most Holy" by Franck and Gounod's "O Divine Redeemer." The second segment, which includes works by Verdi, Durante and Rossini, will be sung in Italian. These will be followed by three popular standards—"Love Has Eyes," "The Donkey Serenade" and "Rose Marie." Mr. White will conclude with "The Stranger of Gallilee" by Crosby, Galtier's "He Touched Me" and arrangements of "Lord I've Tried" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Nicholas B. Campbell, a second-year Master of Divinity student, will be the accompanist. Mr. Campbell, a graduate of Bloomfield, Westminster Choir and Trenton State Colleges, lives in Somerville.

HUNTERS IN COURT

December 10, Hunters of The Antlers Club will meet Princeton Township in Superior Court December 10 before Judge George Y. Schoch. The Antlers charge that the Township's ordinance prohibiting discharge of firearms in the municipality is contrary to the state's game laws.

The ordinance was passed in October, 1972. Two amendments allowing outdoor ranges if they meet certain standards, and increasing to 450 feet the distance from school or home a loaded gun can be carried are on Township Committee's table. (For a related letter, see "Mailbox," page 18.)

Freeway Link Opened

A quarter-century after ground was first broken, the Trenton Freeway has been completed, now leading from U.S. 1 near Bakers Basin across the Delaware River. Ceremonies Tuesday morning marked the opening of the final link through Lawrence Township to Whitehead Road.

Alfred E. Driscoll was in his first term as governor in 1918 when he turned over the symbolic shovel of earth to start the project. Various sections leading from Pennsylvania to Whitehead Road were completed by the late '50s, but the link just opened had been delayed for nearly 15 years by a lack of funds.

Total cost for the 5.6 mile Freeway was $20 million.

relatives or friends can pick up entry forms at either of Nassau's two offices at 194 Nassau Street in Princeton or 44 Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction. The tiger advertisement appearing in Town Topics can also be used; crayons or paints accepted.

All entries must be received by 4 on Friday, November 30, at either Nassau Savings office.

DON'T THE REPUBLICAN FREEHOLDER CANDIDATES CARE ABOUT CRIME IN THE STREETS?

Why are they supporting "with real enthusiasm" the Republican gubernatorial candidate — a man who has attempted to block so many measures in New Jersey and in Congress to prevent street crime? That's not good for New Jersey and it's not good for Mercer County. Have it your way. Vote for the freeholder candidates who are concerned about crime. Vote Democratic.

Sportsmen File Objection.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Letter writing is not a usual activity of ours; however, since the press has been most effective in exposing certain characteristics of elected officials, we feel obligated to make certain facts known to the residents of Princeton Township. Until lately we were always under the impression that an elected official has an obligation to hear all sides of a given situation that may affect even the least member of his constituency.

We are a small group of people in our town who are bitterly opposed to the new Town ship "No-Discharge of Fire arms" law. We feel that there is enough open space in town where hunters can do their thing without causing any danger to property or innocent bystanders.

We may be wrong. The new firearms law may be just what the majority of Princeton township residents want. But what we do resent as tax-paying citizens is Mayor Jay Bleiman's refusal to meet with us to discuss the pros and cons of the township firearms law as he promised to do.

At an open Township Committee meeting, Mayor Bleiman promised to meet with the members of the Antlers Sportsman Club. This meeting never took place. When we contacted the Mayor again, he reported that he could not see the necessity of holding a meeting to discuss our particular grievance.

If this failure to meet with a minority group of opinion is part of his usual behavior, we are concerned that if he is re-elected the same short shrift will be given to any minority group whether it be concerned with firearms laws, housing for low and middle income groups, consideration for senior citizens, or any other activity involving a small number of township residents.

Boutique Is for Everyone.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is the text of a letter sent to Dr. Jennifer MacLeod, in reply to her letter in TOWN TOPICS:

"Thank you for your letter of October 15. We will pass on your comments to next year's committee for consideration."

In regard to the hours and times of the Christmas Boutique, this year we are open until 6 o'clock one day to encourage people to stop in on their way home from work. Naturally, many people enjoy shopping during their lunch hours, and we even have a snack bar open then. In addition, we always schedule the Boutique to encompass Election Day which gives many people an opportunity to shop at their convenience during the day.

Voters Not Apathetic.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Is the local election campaign "drowsy to the point of torpor"? Is this a "ho-hum" campaign? (Town Topics, Oct. 25)

Taxes: is it "ho-hum" if local long-time residents who have contributed to our town for years are forced to leave town because they can't afford our rampaging tax increases? Does it matter if programs designed to aid the less affluent end up charging the bill for such programs to the very people it was designed to aid by increasing their tax bills?

Traffic: is it "ho-hum" if our main street becomes strangled in ever-increasing heavy truck and car traffic because we don't have the guts and guts to do anything about it?

Housing: does it include torpor to consider how we will increase our housing supply for the elderly?

Historic preservation: What is so drowsy about trying to preserve our historic buildings and the appearance of our town?

If TOWN TOPICS is suggesting that these issues are not emergencies, it is correct. However, these issues will have a drastic effect on our future. Problems are much more difficult to resolve satisfactorily if allowed to drift to a complex crisis state.

We decided from the beginning to use our budget to advertise the issues, so that problems we think are vitally important to Princeton would reach our voters. We have not found voter apathy. We think Princetonians are very interested in their town, the very opposite of "ho-hum."

Racial Issues Regretted.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It was with great concern that we learned this past week of the allegations introduced in the political campaign against Joseph P. Moore. It has been stated that, because of his identification with a particular racial group within the community, he is less qualified to serve on Borough Council.

Princeton, as a community, can be justifiably proud of its citizens who have worked diligently over the years to make our town responsive to the needs of all. The community's awareness of its problems and its willingness to search for solutions have made it a uniquely satisfying place to live and gained it a reputation throughout the state.

Mr. Moore follows within the best traditions of community service. His dedication to the quality of life and belief that the concern of any citizen is the concern of all is testified to by his involvement in civic organizations and by his record as a member of Borough Council.

To inject a racial issue into the political election process is a disservice to the entire community.

Clarification Offered.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am writing in connection with last week's article on the political campaign. As a private citizen, I observed that this was the first year in some time that no serious incidents had occurred in the high school at the start of the year, and I wanted to bring this to the public's attention. My comment was not made in the context of my work on Borough Council.

Charter Commission Backed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Most of us are unaware of the structure and function of county government, but most of us will agree that its present form needs improvement and greater visibility. I would like to urge everyone to vote yes on the public question on the ballot which calls for establishment of a Charter Study Commission. The nine-member charter commission will study the present form of county government and options for change and will present its recommendations to the voters next year.

Although 38 public-spirited individuals have filed for a spot on the commission, only a few have a serious interest in giving the necessary time for the extensive research and study required. Kay McGrath's interest and experience with the League of Women Voters makes her especially qualified.

I hope that the charter commission will be non-partisan and composed of nine qualified members. With a list of 38 candidates, it is imperative that one knows which nine individuals are especially willing and able to serve Mercer County in this capacity.

Works must be black and white and measure 8 1/2 by 11 inches or smaller.

Materials should be brought to the PPYP office at the Pence Center, 163 Nassau St. by November 7. They will be returned if requested. The contributor's name, address, and phone number should be attached to each piece of art whether or not it is to be returned.

"A people's yellow pages is a very informal publication," emphasizes Ms. Smith. "Amateurs shouldn't feel that their contributions won't be good enough."

YOUTH PROGRAMS?

Study Begins. What's available in Princeton for high school youth? What kids "served"? What are the gaps? How can existing organizations be helped? Should some programs be ended?

A three-month study of youth programming and funding in Princeton has begun under the auspices of the Council of Community Services, with funding by the Princeton Youth Fund aided by both Borough and Township with $200 contributions.

George Robertson, 1973 graduate of Princeton University who directed Flight II in its last month, will be study director. He will submit his report to a Youth Resource Panel formed by the Council of Community Services. Martha Hartmann, representing the Youth Fund, is chairman of the panel.

Its other members are Barbara Sigmund for Borough Council; Barbara Smoyer for Township Committee; Joar Dog, school board; Robert Sinkler, Joint Recreation Board; the Rev. Leon Gipson, Princeton Interfaith Council; and Leslie L. Vivian Jr., United Fund.

In liaison with the panel is Lynette Danylehuk, chairman of the Youth Concerns Committee of the Council; Jerry Van Sant, vice president of the Council; and Janet Pearson, executive director of the Council.

FREE EQUAL TIME?

IT COSTS US $10,000!

Who is the winner? Certainly not the American public who cannot be exposed in depth to the journalistic thinking of the electronic press thanks to the discriminatory, impractical federal Equal Time law better known as Section 315 of the Communications Act.

TO HELP INFORM THE ELECTORATE

To demonstrate the burdens, limitations, and double standards placed upon the electronic press only, Nassau Broadcasting Company took a dramatic step to demonstrate why this law must be repealed. We wanted leading gubernatorial candidates Democrat Brendan Byrne and Republican Sandman to debate on our stations, appear on panels, ask them weekly questions, and in the interests of an informed electorate charge them nothing. And, we wished to do interpretive analysis and commentary. But the Equal Time law says we must treat all 12 legally qualified gubernatorial candidates the same. Our stations would then have had so many political programs on the air you would have tuned out—and the public then becomes the loser.

Our Technique — A QUESTION OF THE WEEK

We posed a pertinent question of the week to all 12 candidates. To fulfill our responsibilities to the Equal Time law we did the following:

1. Sent 84 special delivery question letters to the 12 men (12 letters each week for 7 weeks).
2. Had our news department on six hour daily standby five days a week to accept their responses.
3. Accepted over 50 collect phone calls lasting an average of 5 minutes while recording their responses.
4. Tape recorded weekly a number of candidates free in our studios.
5. Tied up our news director for at least two man weeks out of seven.
6. Had innumerable management-news conferences and long distance phone calls to our Washington FCC trained attorney on fine points of the Equal Time Law.
7. Provided two minutes of response time per candidate per week on each of our two stations—and all at the highest prime listening times of the day (7:15 a.m. and 6:15 p.m.).

In all, a total of some 168 separate air responses totaling almost 6 hours of air time!

It cost our company well in excess of $10,000 in seven weeks just so we could ask the two leading candidates 7 questions!

Example of Impractical, Inconsistent, Unfair Law

Legally, those 12 candidates did not even have to directly respond to our Question of the Week! They could have used the time to say anything (but happily they did directly respond.)

Further, they could use foul language, make libelous statements—virtually say anything . . . and the law says we have no control of this! Yet foul language or libelous statements used by anyone else on our stations might cost us thousands of dollars in FCC fines or the loss of our licenses! Only the politician is exempt! Why?

SUMMARY

There are many issues beside Equal Time of great concern to us as a result of Federal controls over broadcasting which affect the First Amendment and what we called the double standards of the press in America. 80% of American leisure time is spent with federally regulated radio (35%) and TV (45%), and 8% with freely operated newspapers. We believe you should be concerned and knowledgeable about continuing federal takeover of what you can see and hear on radio and TV and will in the coming months be speaking out on other issues.

OUR ENDORSEMENT

For the first time we are using our journalistic prerogatives and best judgments of our management and news staff, to editorially endorse candidates at all levels. By combining from 2 to 9 favored candidates in single 30 second messages we will use approximately 10 minutes of air time to make our endorsements for 40 candidates. The Equal Time Law will require us to offer same 54 minutes for response by the 90 unendorsed candidates! Is this equal time?

Tuesday was Endorsement Day on WHWH and WPST

Our choices as announced on Tuesday were:

FOR GOVERNOR: Like so many others, we have been disenchanted and unimpressed with the qualifications of Democrat Brendan Byrne and Republican Charles Sandman. The former continues to demonstrate his lack of astuteness, and the latter has run a generally negative campaign.

But apathy or not, we feel you should vote for a governor and for all offices in your district. And, we suggest that if voters want qualified candidates that they had best be more involved within a given party before and during the primary period when the candidates are selected.

Feeling that neither Byrne nor Sandman are eminently qualified based upon their performances to date, we are endorsing someone who dozens of Republicans and Democrats we have checked with this past week do feel is eminently qualified to be governor. His name is:

GOVERNOR WILLIAM CAHILL

LWV AGAINST PLAN

For County Waste Disposal. The Leagues of Women Voters of Mercer County have announced their opposition to the latest proposal of the Mercer County Improvement Authority for a regional solid waste disposal plan.

The Leagues' opposition is based on these factors:

• The arrangement between MCIA and Landfill and Development Co., a private concern, would not be a genuine regional solution to the county's solid waste problems, as it is designed for only the six largest of Mercer's 13 municipalities. No firm cost figures for the other seven municipalities were calculated.

• It is irresponsible county management for the MCIA to try to eliminate Mercer County's trash problems by disposal in another county. (L & D's privately owned landfill is located in Mt. Holly, Burlington County.)

• Opposition by municipal officials in Burlington can rightly be expected.

• The L & D landfill in Mt. Holly presently has ground pollution problems as a result of the leachate draining down through the soil (there is no lining in that landfill). The Authority has no definite plan as to how or when that pollution would be cleared up or what kind of design would keep any new portions of the landfill from further pollution.

• There would be no guarantee that, once L & D had the collection and disposal business of the six largest Mercer municipalities, a monopoly price situation would not be created. No plans have been made by the Authority for any recourse for price complaints by the customers of L&D whether municipalities or individuals, except for that provided by the Public Utilities Commission.

• The League of Women Voters has a strong commitment to recycling, and the Authority has not devised any definite plan to collect, reclaim and sell recyclable materials. With control of collection in the hands of a private contractor and without a county-run disposal site, it is unlikely that a major recycling effort could become a reality.

The Leagues stressed their continued support for a regional county-wide solid waste disposal plan involving a truly sanitary landfill and at a later date, a permanent volume reduction system, as was originally proposed by the Improvement Authority.

Both of these facilities should be located in Mercer County, should be planned for all 13 municipalities, and should have recycling as an integral part of the design, the Leagues believe.

POLICE ASK COOPERATION

In Night Bike Riding. Complaints from citizens and motorists in the Township over bicyclists riding at night without light and wearing dark clothing has reached serious proportions, warns Chief Frederick Porter.

"I strongly urge all parents not to let their children ride after sunset without lights or reflectors on their bike and, above all, to wear some type of clothing that can be seen," the chief stated. He added that adults were just as guilty as children. "They go out seemingly without any thought to the consequences that can result."

Another problem, according to the Chief, is the mini bike. Since the mini-bike cannot meet minimum safety standards set by the state's Motor Vehicle Department, they cannot be licensed, and as a consequence can only be driven on private property. "There is no area in the Township where motorbikes are allowed; certainly they're not allowed on sidewalks and streets," said the Chief.

Chief Porter reported that he understood that some municipalities have legally held the parents of minibike riders responsible under the state motor vehicle act. "Summonses have been issued to the parents and the parents held responsible. I intend to look into this."

Chief Porter commented that there was a time when he felt his department had far more important things to do than enforce the bicycle laws, but he has done an about face. "Enforcement really had to be done. It's getting out of hand. Safety is our profession and it must prevail in the Township."

Sgt. Anthony Nini, Township Traffic Safety Officer, echoed the Chief. "I'm running out of breath warning cyclists every day to get over. No one seems to care but us," he said.

The Princeton community, including the Borough, has an estimated 15,000 bicycles within its boundaries. When the newly-proposed bicycle paths become operable the number of riders will probably increase.

Chief Porter welcomes them. "It gives us a little to work with. State law says when bike paths are provided, riders must use them. If they don't they can be charged."

A DIVISION OF FLEMINGTON FUR COMPANY

NEW ON ALEXANDER STREET: Admiring a beautiful early to mid-19th century Chi-hi prayer rug is Mrs.
William LaRiche of the newly-opened R.H. Kahn Antique Rugs and Textiles, 106 Alexander Street.

IT'S NEW To Us

TURNING AN INTEREST... into a Business. When R. H. Kahn bought his first two oriental rugs eight years ago, he never dreamed that this interest would grow into a store. With the help of several New York dealers he learned about antique rugs, and so loved them that he began his own collection.
Then last year he decided to expand his buying with the thought of opening a store. It became a reality on October 22 when R. H. Kahn Antique Rugs and Textiles opened at 106 Alexander Street.

In general Mr. Kahn deals in rugs at least 100 years of age, but he does have several good examples from around the turn of the century. He feels there is an artistry to the antique rugs that is lacking in today's copies of the classic orientals.

He also appreciates the subtle changes in colors throughout these rugs that were caused by the varying dyes and grades of wool. These gradations create a feeling of depth that the modern rugs lack.

Chinese Rug for $3,200. As you enter the store it is difficult not to immediately step on a beautiful blue and white antique Chinese rug. It is room size and costs $3,200 which includes the needed restoration.
Mr. Kahn does not do restoration work but sends the rugs to a New York dealer.

Then hung on the walls are several antique prayer rugs from the Caucasus, an area of Southeastern Europe. As religious items these rugs were important pieces and therefore often represented some of the people's best work. The rare, good examples of these are expensive and really should be displayed as a work of art.

We also saw a variety of Kierman, South Persian and Turkoman rugs and several textile pieces. Mr. Kahn uses the term textile to cover whatever attractive embroideries, quilts, paintings on fabric, or Navaho rugs he finds while searching for his antique rugs.

Some of them are most unusual such as a Balinese painting on cloth and a beautiful Tibetan Tank, a painting on thin canvas of many buddhas that has been bordered and backed with silk, $450.

The store is open Monday to Friday from 9:30 to 4:30, Saturdays by appointment.

NEW WAY TO INVEST

Collect Plates. While the well-loved Bing and Grondahl annual Christmas plates have been around since 1895, the concept of plate collecting only began to mushroom several years ago. Now several times a year there are advertised offers to begin a Christmas or Mother's Day series.

If you have often been tempted but hesitated to commit yourself on the basis of a picture, a visit to Collector's Corner in Kingston is in order to see the large variety that exists. We especially loved a series by Haviland - Parlon representing the Unicorn tapestries. The fourth of five plates will be available this year and they cost $35 when issued.

Other series include the 12
Days of Christmas by John Haviland, four china Norman Rockwell plates by Gorham, and a Lowell Davis animal series on Kaiser porcelain.
There are even some series

Skin grafting is often a good way to repair damage to large areas of the skin. Skin is a wonderful substance able to regenerate itself. That is what makes it possible for physicians to move pieces of skin to areas of the body that have been damaged.
The skin transplanted immediately begins to grow new cells around itself, and soon the wounded area is covered with completely new skin. For this process we are indebted to mod-in sterling silver started by the Franklin Mint such as one representing the presidents, $150 for each plate.

While many people collect solely for the personal enjoyment involved, others collect as an investment. For instance the first union plate is now worth $135, and the older Bing and Grondahl plates vary greatly in price. Collector's Corner may not have every plate from every year, but it does have many of the older ones whether you're investing or filling a gap in your own collection.

Mail Order Business. Collector's Corner was started as a mail order business in 1969 by Joe Petrozzini, a former interior decorator and member of NSID. He soon added the Frame House Gallery Collector's prints and in the Spring of 1971 moved into the store in Kingston so customers could actually see the plates and prints before deciding.

Frame House publishes limited editions of the works of eight American wildlife artists for general collectors and for conservation organizations to use for membership drive and fund raising.

Each year several new prints are released such as a

Cardinal by Don Richard Eckelberry, $20; two Cheetahs by Richard Evans Younger, $60 for a signed print; African Lion by Charles France, $35; and by Charles Harper the Last Sunflower Seed, $30.

Each print comes with a brief biography of the artist and a description of the subject.

$75 to $350. However, as the plates grow in value, so do many of these prints. For instance, a Guy Cohelanch Tiger released in 1971 at $30 now sells for $185 to collectors, and the American Eagle signed and numbered by Ray Harm originally cost $75 in 1971 and now sells for $350. These prints might not only be a good investment and an aid to conservation, but they are also beautiful for themselves.

One thing leads to another, and Joe Petrozzini had so many questions about framing the prints that he joined the Professional Picture Framers Association. Now Collector's Corner can frame any of the prints or whatever other art works you have.

The store also has limited edition prints from Frame House Gallery's Fleur-de-lis collection of non-wildlife subjects, the New York Graphic Society's prints, and figurines by Lladro, Royal Copenhagen and Bochn.

Then because he is a part owner of a drapery workshop in Philadelphia, Mr. Petrozzini is returning somewhat to the decorating business by carrying fabric sample books and offering custom draperies at the decorator's price if you do all the measuring and hanging.

This unusual and varied store is at 61 Main Street, Kingston and is open Tuesday to Friday from 10 until 5 and on Saturday from 10 until 4.

BOUTIQUE TIME AGAIN
10 Shops at Nassau Inn. Next Tuesday, November 6, the 10th annual Christmas Boutique sponsored by the Auxiliary of the Princeton Medical Center will begin at the Nassau Inn.

This year there will be 11 stores, gourmet food and holiday decorations created through the efforts of many Princeton area women, and a new feature of a silent auction.

The stores are varied beginning with the return of Au Bon Gout from Palm Beach with exotic gifts and their not oil cocktail snacks. Then specializing in leather goods such as purses, luggage and games like backgammon and chess is The Baggage Room, Chestnut Hill, Pa.

Chipp of New York will be there with fashionable men's clothing; The Fiddlehead of Bernardsville, carries gifts and an hors d'oeuvre bearing the store's name that must be tried; from Tampa, Florida, Gattle's will bring lingerie and linens for your bed and bath; and Jewels Fargo is returning with its distinctive costume jewelry.

Record Breaker. The Boutique charmen are very excited about the arrival of La Boutique from Greenwich, Conn. This store has women's casual and dressy clothes many of which have been personally designed by the store's owner, and its sales have broken records at other boutiques.

The remaining stores are La Cucina from Centerville, Del., with gourmet cookware and kitchen accessories; Rachel's from Atlantic City, which will bring clothes and toys for children; and the Silver Needle of Chappaqua, N.Y., which has outstanding needlepoint designs and specializes in its own custom designing.

Then finally there is Orvis of Manchester, Vt., which has sporting equipment and accessories. Princeton men find hard to resist. This store has been coming to the boutique for a number of years and breaks the boutique rule that the stores should change annually.

The holiday Gourmet will have casseroles, cookies and hors d'oeuvres from Princeton kitchens and the auxiliary will operate a Sip and Snack spot for a light homemade treat when you need a shopping break.

Bid on a Vacation Spot. New this year is the Silent Auction with 50 tempting items you can deposit a bid for. Would you like to ski at Stowe over Washington's birthday, relax in a villa on the North Shore of Jamaica or spend two weeks on the Greek Island of Ios? Or you can bid for a mahogany breakfast, a Steubenville vase, a bridge lesson for eight, or a needlepoint rug from Mazaltov of New York with a fruits and vegetable theme worked by six Princeton women.

More than an excellent selection of gifts, the Boutique is a pleasurable experience. The cranberry color and tin sel will quickly put you in a Christmas mood, and as an added benefit the Princeton Medical Center benefits. It will get 10 percent of what ever you spend, and even if you don't make a purchase, the dollar admission will be helping the hospital.

The Boutique runs for three days, ending on Thursday at 3 p.m., and for the husbands Wednesday evening is stag night where the only women present will be slinky little models.

OTHER PAPERS will run your classifieds for half price, or for nothing if they do not sell in TOWN TOPICS, you'll find more ads and better results.

ART In Princeton

At Gallery of Fine Art. The work of Princeton sculptress Dorothea Greenbaum has spanned almost half a century of American art. Through the many years of new styles and directions, during decades in which artists were seeking new forms, Mrs. Greenbaum has worked steadily, developing a personal and consistent means of expression. Her work has grown in technical virtuosity and has acquired a stylistic maturity.

as a sculptress began after she had been painting professionally for 15 years. She shifted her artistic focus to three dimensional works in bronze, lead, stone and marble. During her many productive decades she has been involved with major art figures including the leaders of the first New York School.

The sculpture displayed spans the entire career of this artist. Although most of the pieces are new or new to Princeton, there are a few earlier works which help the viewer to understand the evolution of her art forms.

Work in many different materials is included. Throughout, the style is consistent, making it possible to view the subtle range of effects created by the various materials she employs.

A work in progress is included and adds another dimension to this view of the artist. A large plaster study of a young dancer has not yet been cast, but, nearly complete, contributes great depth to the display.

Mrs. Greenbaum is a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters. Her work is included in the permanent collections of the Whitney Museum, the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, the New Jersey State Museum and many other museums throughout the country.

Her work is also included in major private collections. Among them, Nelson Rockefeller, Winthrop Aldrich, Mrs. Arthur Sulzberger.

At the Artisan. Watercolors by river painter Jack Lewis are on display. This artist has focused on the river, its banks, the residents and their life style as his major subject.

The results of the visual studies of specific rivers have been combined into several books, "The Potomac", "The Hudson" and "The Delaware". In each of the books the narration is accompanied by paintings of the life surrounding the river as well as scenic studies of the river and its inhabitants.

Many of the paintings on display were included in the books. In his work Lewis uses his wash techniques freely and the results are loose, fluid paintings that still retain the aspect of their subject. He is most interesting where he mutes his palette and combines the natural flow with soft color for an interpretive look at his subject.

At Gallery 100. Portraits and landscape by Peter Cook provide us with a view of another Princeton Area artist. Mr. Cook has studied the Maine seacoast and forest for many years, and the present collection includes many of his favorite subjects. The woods, small pine-crested islands and vigorous rocky shorelines are the outstanding features of the show.

Working in a traditional manner, Mr. Cook uses a rich palette with judiciously placed impasto areas. Some knife painting complements brushwork in many of the pieces on view.

Portraits reveal another dimension of this artist. Highly representational studies of his subjects are executed in lively color with controlled brushwork.

At Guild and Gallery Plus. Still another Princeton artist can be seen this week. Local scenes and still life are the major focus of watercolorist Donald Werden in this Montgomery Center gallery. In the current display, this artist exhibits his usual mastery over watercolor as a representational media. With great skill he controls his paint while maintaining a transparency of color and good use of light that is necessary for this medium.

Although highly realistic, the painter's hand is always present, as is a thoughtful and creative way with both subject and paint.

RUBENS WORK DISPLAYED

At Princeton Museum. A recently discovered painting by Peter Paul Rubens will be shown to the public for the first time at the Art Museum of Princeton University in an exhibition opening Saturday.

The large and impressive work by the 17th-century Flemish master, entitled "The Leopards," will be the focus of the exhibition which has been organized by Dr. John R. Martin, Marquand Professor of Art and Archaeology and chairman of Princeton's Department of Art and Archaeology, who is a leading authority on Rubens.

The painting, showing two leopards playing with two children with a satyr and nymph in the background, is being lent to the museum by Central Pictures Galleries of New York City.

The painting shows up in a painting by Jan Breughel the Elder of 1618 and the motif of the playing leopards was used by him earlier in a painting of 1615 thus establishing a probable date of 1615 for the execution of the painting.

Dr. Julius S. Held, who has written a brochure on the painting available at the museum for $2, will give a lecture on Wednesday, November 13, at 8 p.m. in McCormick 101.

The exhibition will be on display until December 16. The museum is open Tuesday-Saturday, 10-4 and on Sunday from 1-5. Admission is free.

SPORTS FANS!

I
KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

It's a little-known fact that a President of the United States was blind in one eye because of a sports event... It was Theodore Roosevelt who lost the sight in his left eye in a boxing match in 1905 with a military aide in the White House.

Oddly enough, the greatest fortune ever made by participating in sports has not been made by Arnold Palmer or Joe Namath or any athlete like that you may think of first... The greatest fortune made by participating in sports was made by — not even any man — but by Sonja Henie who reportedly made over 47-million dollars in her career of ice skating... Sonja made her money by skating in the 1930s and 1940s in competition and in movies and ice shows.

When was the last time a lineman won the Heisman Trophy as the best college football player of the year?... No lineman has won the Heisman since 1949 when Leon Hart, an end from Notre Dame, won it... Since then winners every year have been backfield men.

I bet you didn't know that Medicare covers a semi-private room for sixty days — then thirty days with $15.00 deductible per day. Then you are on your own. Better see me.

Tigers Face First 8th Place Ivy Finish, Even If They Upsel Brown

THE ALL DAY STORY: Passes off-target, such as the one split end Norm Skinner (87) is diving for, hobbled Princeton's offense Saturday against Penn. Tigers had 13-far-39 day in the air as they were shut out by Penn, 24-0, far first time in 14 years.

After having played a considerable amount of inept football in their fifth game of the season, Princeton's Tigers are confronted with the harsh probability that even if they win on Saturday the chances are high that, for the first time, they will finish in a last place tie in the Ivy standings. Clearest indication of the magnitude of their current problems is the fact that a victory first place Penn for a share of the championship. Brown, on the other hand, has already defeated Yale and is virtually certain of topping Columbia. Such a sequence of events would see the Lions and the Tigers bedded in the cellar with identical 1-6 records, a mark heretofore unknown in Princeton.

Unable to book a ninth game because of the Ivy League's restrictions on opening dates and because eastern independents schedule their contests so far in advance, Brown will come here thoroughly rested after having an off Saturday last weekend. While opinion differs on the total value of such a break, many of the less serious hangs and bruises a squad sustains can disappear in two weeks' time. A variety of injuries continue to slow some of the Princeton personnel.

Victor only over Yale while tying Rhode Island and losing to Penn and Dartmouth. Brown has managed to test

QUICK LOOK AT BROWN

OFFENSE: Productive—averaging better than three touchdowns a game. Passing superior to running, but Bruins have proved they can score.

DEFENSE: The trouble spot. Brown no better than 1-2-1 because it has allowed 25 points a game.

CHIEF ASSET: Two weeks' rest, plus extreme eagerness to beat Princeton for first time in two decades.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Inexperience, which leads to inconsistency. Brown is basically a young team that will improve as it matures.

every defense it has faced. The Bruins alternate two quarterbacks, juniors Pete Beatrice and junior college transfer Dennis Coleman. The latter came with flashy statistics from Arizona Western, but has actually been a better runner than passer for the Bruins, and Beatrice sees the greater share of the action. He has a gaudy completion average of 66 and averages 7.6 yards every time he puts the ball in play. Inconsistency has nonetheless plagued the offense, and the Brown defense has had almost as much trouble as Princeton holding opponents in check.

New coach John Anderson (who runs a summer football camp with Bob Casciola) has instilled a dangerous offense and a high degree of morale in his young squad, both of which were major factors in the Bruins' 34-25 victory over Yale, first in a decade. The Rhode Islanders also led Penn for quite a while, scoring three TDs in losing, 28-20, which is a whole lot more than Princeton's thoroughly depressed Tigers managed.

WORKING ON: IMPROVING TOWNSHIP MANAGEMENT: As mayor JAY has appointed outstanding men and women to local Boards and Commissions on a non-partisan basis. Two highly trained professionals have been added to Township staff. JAY helped revise budgetary procedures to keep the public informed and involved, and helped in adoption of the first capital budget and five year program. Under his chairmanship, increases in property taxes have been kept to a four year minimum. ELLEN has guided the refining of Health Department procedures to achieve greater efficiency of operation.

WORKING ON: ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION: JAY brought about the Harry's Brook Flood Control Study. He aided in the acquisition of the Woodfields and Houghten-Castoro tracts and the re-activation of the Historic Sites Commission. ELLEN and JAY both furthered the extensive solid waste collection and disposal studies. ELLEN guided revision of the sewage disposal code, and initiated the revision and enforcement of our housing code.

SCREWBALL STATISTICS

In 21-0 Defeat, Imagine this conversation between a spectator at a game and another fan who had not seen the contest:

Spectator: "Just listen to these statistics: We had 17 first downs to their 14, outgained them rushing, 158 to 116 and had 287 yards total offense to their 276."

"We completed 13 passes to their 11. We had the ball for 32 minutes, and 47 seconds to their 29 minutes, 13 seconds, and in the second half, we had it almost twice as much as they did — 19 minutes to their 10."

"They fumbled four times, we recovered two of them near the goal line; on the other hand, we fumbled only once and got it back. About the only thing we lost statistically was in penalties — we had four for 49 yards and they had two for 10."

Other Fan: "Great! How did the game come out?"

Spectator: "We lost, 24 to 0."

How Is It Done? To achieve such an imbalance takes a bit of doing. The following are

Ivy League Forecast

Brown over Princeton. Tigers' problems are endless.

Penn over Harvard. Crimson defense has come unglued.

Yale over Dartmouth. Elis finally put it together.

Cornell over Columbia. Lions have 16 points in 5 games.

Last Week
2 Right, 2 Wrong 500

Record to Date

contributing factors:

- Allow a Penn offense which had not had a good first half this season and was missing Adolph Bellizaire, its best runner and leading scorer, to average better than 6 yards a play the first time it got the ball for a 72-yard touchdown drive.

- Fail to field a short kick off in an Alphonse and Gaston act, thereby allowing Penn to recover on the 25 and shortly thereafter, kick a field goal. In the first eight minutes, the opposition had ten points and Princeton had not touched the ball.

Ten points is not an insurmountable lead, but the Tigers compounded their problems quickly by:

- Lacking the confidence to go for two yards on fourth down on the Penn 9 and then missing the field goal attempt.

- Conversely, allowing Penn to complete a pass on a fourth-and-six situation at the Tiger 15 because the receiver had no defender within five yards of him. The play netted 13 yards and on the next down, the score rose to 17-0 and school was out for the afternoon.

Early in the third period, Penn marched 71 yards in just six plays to end the day's scoring. Princeton churned away between the two 25-yard lines, but wholly ineffectively. In the fourth quarter, backfield reserves put the ball in motion inside the visitors' 30 no less than 11 times but were unable to reach the end zone.

For Penn, often beaten decisively by the Orange and Black, it was a day of contentment as it moved into the eat bird's seat in the tight Ivy race. The Quakers had not won in Palmer Stadium since 1959 — the year they last shut out Princeton — and had not scored back to back triumphs over their former tormentors since 1948 and '49.

Nothing Works for Tigers. It was apparent when the season began that the Princeton defense was sufficiently short of experience, depth and overall ability that the Tigers would have to score around three touchdowns a game to have a shot at winning. Hopes were that one of four quarterback would take charge of the new year offense and that Walt Snockenberger's running would provide fine balance to a passing game strengthened by the presence of an abnormally high number of capable receivers.

The last time Princeton scored a touchdown in Ivy League play was in the third quarter against Columbia on October 6. Five games into the season, the Tigers have no first line quarterback. Sophomore Ron Beible was a respectable 10 for 18 but only for 96 yards, and the closer he got to the goal line, the more he overshot his receivers. Dave Mistretta, his immediate replacement, was 2 for 9.

Snockenberger, who picked up enough yardage against Rutgers, Columbia and Colgate to rank third nationally (with a per game average of 138 yards) has totalled just 60 yards against Cornell and Penn. The Tigers have managed just six points (two field goals) against these two opponents, and there is no reason to expect a much greater output against the likes of Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth.

Mechanical mistakes still plague the team as November arrives. Against Penn on one occasion, the offense lined up wrong on a spread formation, requiring an unnecessary time out to correct matters, and on another, a lineman shot four yards into the Penn secondary before the ball was snapped. These mistakes aren't costly but they further downgrade the image of a team struggling to better a 1-4 record.

HUN VS. PINGRY

In Final Home Game, Following last week's 25-0 loss to Princeton High School, the Hun football team will play its final home game of the season Friday still looking for its first win.

Hun will entertain Pingry in a 2:45 contest. Pingry has a 3-2-1 record and unless Hun can get its sputtering offense on gear the Red and Black will be in for another long afternoon.

"What can you say," commented Hun coach Dave Leete after watching his team lose an obvious mismatch with visiting Princeton High School Saturday. "We made them work in the first half," said Leete but he agreed the two teams do not belong on the same field.

"They're too big, too good." After two years, the Little Tigers have a 77-0 advantage and Leete, who also doubles as athletic director for Hun, reported that the original two-year contract will not be renewed. "It was worth it to try it for a couple of years, and it was interesting to renew the rivalry," but Leete made it clear that Hun intends to compete in the future with schools with a student body closer to its own. In the past two seasons, Hun has won only one game.

Against PHS, the running of junior halfback Bob McHugh and the play of end Dave Clark who caught several aerials over the middle were two of the bright spots to which the losers could point. More details appear in the PHS account of the game in this issue.

PHS Swamps Hun, 35-0; Moves to Nail Down County Title

A 35-0 victory over Hun School Saturday brought Phase II to an end for the Princeton High School team. Phase II consisted of three straight non-Mercer County League foes and left the Little Tigers with a 4-2 record.

Now the Blue and White will start the third and decisive phase of the season, consisting of three consecutive league games. The championship, the first "official" league title in Mercer County where PHS is presently on top with a 3-0 record, hangs in the balance. Tied for second are Notre Dame and Hamilton, both with 3-1 records.

Princeton's first opponent in Phase III will be Steinert Saturday, followed by Notre Dame and Trenton. The Steinert game will be held at the PHS field with a 2 p.m. kickoff. It is the Little Tigers' final home game of the season.

An inconsistent team for the past several seasons, Steinert is going nowhere this year with a 2-4 record. In its last outing, Steinert was edged by Trenton, 8-6. Trenton also has a 2-4 record.

Steinert is a running team, one seemingly made to order for the PHS defense led by Dan Poling. But PHS coach Dick Wood is taking nothing for granted.

He described Steinert as "physically tough, a team that could cause us problems."

Moreover, with the loss of Pete Watson for the next two games and possibly the rest of the season, PHS is down to one quarterback. The PHS offense is a mix of passing and running and if starting quarterback John Mooney gets hurt, Wood pointed out, "it could put us in a box."

Hun Outgunned. A 70-yard off-tackle counter play by Ron Campbell in the first period and a 30-yard dippy-doodle by Bob Zinsmeister, Princeton's leading scorer, staked PHS to a 14-0 halftime lead over Hun. A better second half team this season, Hun was still in the ball game.

But it was PHS, not Hun, that came on after the intermission. Two more long scoring plays by Zinsmeister — his seventh and eighth of the season — and a 29 yard aerial from Mooney to end Steve Tomlinson, the latter's first TD of the season (he has kicked 23 of 23 extra points) added up to a 35-0 rout of the home team.

REYNOLDS INTERCEPTS: Defensive back George Reynolds of PHS (31) intercepted a Hun pass in the third period and returned it to the PHS 37.

Hun got the message PHS won't have the Red and Black to kick around anymore because Dave Leete, Hun coach and athletic director, has announced that the contract between the two schools will not be renewed.

SPORTS
Go-Round
by JOHN SUTTON

Basketball had its origins in Mexico in the sixteenth century in a game called Ollamalilli. The object of the game at that time was to put a solid rubber ball through a stone ring located on one side of the stadium. If a player could accomplish this, he was entitled to the clothes of all the spectators. The loser of the game, unfortunately, often lost his head as well! Sounds like an even more interesting version than today's game!

Whatever your game, you'll find the sporting equipment you need at SPORTS 'N' THINGS, Montgomery Shopping Center, 924-8162. "They played harder than we expected; they didn't scout that good," said Wood after the game. But that was little comfort to Hun, which dropped its sixth in a row.

PHS kept to the ground at the start. On its sixth offensive play after holding Hun twice, PHS sprung Campbell. The counter play caught the overhunting Hun squad by surprise. After that, Hun seemed to settle down. At one point after PHS had gained a first down on the Hun 10, Hun sack 1 Mooney three consecutive times as he tried to pass, pushing the Little Tigers back to the 40.

A short punt by Hun's Andy Fertig enabled PHS to break through in the second period. Steve Kopp gathered the ball in about the Hun 45 at full gallop and carried it into the end zone. A clip wiped out the score. The second time Kopp has had a TD called back this year because of an infraction, and PHS wound up with the ball on the 30. On the next play, Zinsmeister zigzagged through the entire Hun line to score standing up.

Poling Leads Defense. Mean time Hun, which never threatened, was being held in check by a solid PHS forward wall. Led by Dan Poling, a 5-9, 220 pound one man wrecking crew. He received a lot of support from Keith Rendell, Tim Mendelsohn, Jeff Drummond and John Figueroa. A center on offense, Figueroa had his best game, playing in the front four defensive line. Another short Hun punt, this one carrying to the Hun 29, triggered Princeton's third score. The Blue and White capitalized at once as Mooney, throwing his third completion in four attempts, hit Steve Robinson with a sideline strike and Tomlinson carried in. That plus his five extra points gave Steve 11 for the day. Overall, he has 32 including one field goal.

Then, in the final period in two explosive bursts, Zinsmeister applied the coup de grace. The 160 pound all area candidate teamed with Mooney on a 60 yard pass play. Zinsmeister being so alone that he looped the last few yards into the end zone, and then broke one for 61 yards down the side lines.

He is a complete player. He has scored five TDs rushing, three on passes and is defensive captain for the team. "He had an exceptionally good game," said Wood later.

He also singled out the running of Campbell, Kevin Scudder and the passing of Mooney. Mooney passed less but the Little Tigers enjoyed it more as he was on target virtually every time.

"We had been throwing too much," commented Wood. "We weren't setting up our passing offense at all." Against Hun, PHS relied more on its ground game and took advantage of Hun's errors.

"We expected to get shut off," said Wood. "But as we were being shut off, we knew what was happening on the other side. They were over-shifting us badly. As soon as we got them where we wanted them, we were able to set up counter plays."

STATE TITLE POSSIBLE
For PDS Football Team. It certainly was the farthest thing from anyone's thoughts at the beginning of the season, especially coach John Boneparth, but the Princeton Day football team has a shot at capturing the Prep School Class B state championship.

The Panthers, who rolled to a 40-14 triumph over winless St. Bernard's last Saturday, have just one game left to play, against Croydon Hall on Friday, November 9. A victory there, easily within the Panthers' grasp, would give them a final mark of 5-2.

Wardlaw, the other team in contention for the title, has two games left to play. If it wins both, it will take the title, a split would mean a tie between PDS and Wardlaw, and two losses would give the Blue and White the championship outright. With games scheduled against Croydon Hall and Pingry, a split seems the most likely possibility.

PDS picked up its fourth win without even dressing for the game, when undermanned

MacArthur Military Academy had to forfeit this Friday's three-yard score by Mark Blaxill, because of a lack of healthy players.

Sharing the title would be satisfaction enough for a young team, that woke up one day and found its best player out of action for the first four games of the season. Bill Martin's absence forced the PDS players to go out and really learn the fundamentals of the game and apply them. There was no way to just "give the ball to the big guy and let him run with it."

The start was slow, naturally enough, but the squad came into its own with the 8-6 upset over Wardlaw two weeks ago. Last week's encounter against St. Bernard's was little more than a scrimmage.

The Blue and White scored the first two times it got its hands on the ball, and was never headed. A poor St. Bernard's punt set the Panthers up on the losers' 30-yard line for their first series of downs in the game, and four plays later Tim Hamid ran the ball over from the six.

A short while later, Ralph Brown made it 12-0 on an eight yard pass from quarterback Nick Brady. Hamid ran for the two-point conversion. PDS added 14 more points in the second period, on a 23-yard run by Martin and a three-yard score by Mark Blaxill.

Two more scores in the third period finished the Panthers' scoring for the day, with Hamid going over from the four yard line and Martin returning a pass interception 25 yards into the end zone. Playing in his first game this season, Martin showed no effects from the ankle injury.

Boneparth had freshman offensive and defensive units on the field for part of the second quarter and all of the fourth, when St. Bernard's got its two scores.

Boneparth cited the outstanding play of Martin, who gained 129 yards in 10 carries. Hamid, nine for 59, middle guard Doug Robinson, who had eight unassisted tackles, Larry Fong, who played well at linebacker and offensive tackle, and had an 84-yard punt, and Brown who went both ways at end.

HILTON STAYS UNBEATEN
In Junior Football League. Scoring in every period, Hilton Realty defeated J. P. Cleaver, 25-6, last week to remain undefeated in the junior division of the Midget Football League. Peterson Construction shut out First National Bank, 6-0, in the first game.

will meet Peterson Construction in a battle between unbeaten, while Sibson & Co. will oppose Cleaver in the first game starting at 9.

Three players shared in the scoring by Hilton. Tim Bertone started things off with a 24-yard reverse behind some excellent blocking and Jeff Kennedy returned a pass interception for 42 yards in the second period.

In the third quarter, a 25-yard run by Tim Wojciechowicz, again behind fine blocking, resulted in six more points. Kennedy scored his second TD in the final period, backing over from the one. Kennedy, the team's quarterback, had set up the play by completing a 29-yard pass to Bob Rice. Rice scored the extra point.

A 55-yard run by Tom Bolster in the fourth period accounted for Cleaver's lone score. Mark Budd completed three of four passes to Dan Miller for a total of 38 yards. Hilton was led on defense by Ed Dean, Anthony Romero, Kennedy, Rice, Bertone and Wojciechowicz. Stuart Shepley, Peter Nelson, John Pirone, Budd and Miller paced the Cleaver defense.

Tom Lion Scores. The only score in the Peterson - First National contest came in the fourth quarter on a short run by Tom Lion. Larry McKellar also excelled offensively. Doug Ferguson and Luke Petrocelli paced the First National offense.

Defensively, the victors were led by Jerry Moyer, Bill Jasion, David Yim, Ted Mallor and Paul Tamasi. Standouts for First National included Peter Borg, Chris Henkel, John Kellogg and Ferguson.

DOUBLE FEATURE

For Carnegie Sailing Club. Last weekend was a busy one on Lake Carnegie, which hosted a Laser Regatta on Saturday and sponsored an "end of October" handicap series on Sunday. Twenty-one Lasers turned out on Saturday and is Sunfish Sunday.

In the Laser Regatta, John Wright, Jr., of the Manaloking Yacht Club easily captured first-place honors with three firsts in five races. Jeff Udell of the Cooper River Yacht Club finished second, Carnegie Sailing Club's Tad LaFountain came in third, and Doug Galloway of Little Egg Harbor Yacht Club won the fourth-place trophy.

LaFountain took first place in the regular Sunday sailing, trailed by John Hopfield, Walt Gibson and Bob Holzman. On a handicap basis (the winner being the skipper whose average for the day showed the most improvement over his fall season average), Hopfield captured top honors and will be awarded a trophy at the club's annual dinner.

TWO SHUTOUTS SCORED

In Midget Football, in games last week in the Midget Football League, Rug and Furniture Mart remained unscathed on with a 19-0 win over Nassau Conover Motors, and Princeton Fuel Oil blanked Princeton University, 6-0, in a defensive battle.

Bob Campbell got Rug Mart off winging by returning the opening kickoff 65 yards for the score. A shirt tail tackle by Ron Ward on Nassau Conover's Mark Pittman, who had scampered 48 yards, averted a possible tie and Ward went on to score the victors' second TD in the third quarter on a six-yard run.

Later, offensive holding nullified a touchdown by Bob Rumer. However, Rumer came back to score on the same series of plays in the final period to give Rug Mart its final TD. The Rug Mart defense was led by Dave Fitzgerald, Ward and Rumer. Linebacker Bob Cronin, Kelly Robinson and Kieran Esposito led the Nassau Conover defense.

The only score in the Fuel Oil-U Store battle came in the first period when Dave Miller fell on a U Store fumble in the end zone. Miller led Fuel Oil on offense, while Keith Phox did the same for U Store.

Defensive standouts for Fuel Oil were Bob McAvonia, Darryl Grisham, Cris Wallace and Miller. For U Store: Cory Easter, Don Johnson, Jordan Paul, John Sapoch and Kevin Murphy.

INCOME DROP REPORTED

By Two Princeton Banks. The soaring prime interest rate, increased interest rates that outstripped interest income, and lower than anticipated demand and savings deposits were among the factors that resulted in lower third quarter earnings for Princeton American Bancorp and United Jersey Banks.

At Princeton Bancorp, primary net operating earnings were $3,132,442 or $1.19 a share for the first nine months of 1973 versus $3,581,757 or $1.39 a share for the corresponding period of 1972. The decreases in net operating income and primary per share earnings amounted to 12.5% and 14.4% respectively. On a fully diluted basis net operating income was $1.13 a share down from $1.27 a share, a change of 11%.

James D. Elleman, chairman, commented, "Princeton American Bancorp's earnings during the third quarter were adversely affected by a cost squeeze generated by a more rapid rise in interest costs than increases in interest income. This squeeze shows signs of abating, but we now anticipate that primary earnings per share for the year could be as much as 15% to 20% below the previous forecast of $1.90 per share given in the second quarter report. This estimate is substantially below our former expectations due to money market factors and certain policy decisions which we have made recently to improve our competitive stance.

"The major policy decision affecting earnings was our move in early July to raise savings rates and rates on con-

Princeton Resident! These Issues Will Shape Your Future.

HOUSING

We can increase the supply of housing gradually, while preserving Princeton's neighborhoods and charm. Let's have scatter-site housing by buying and renovating deteriorating buildings. In this way we can increase the variety of individualized housing options for the elderly and others in the community with special housing needs.

SEWERS

The design of the regional sewer system will lock our region into particular growth patterns for the next 50 years. More public information and discussion is needed before we take this major step. We intend to be knowledgeable representatives who will keep YOU informed about YOUR future.

PARKS AND RECREATION

Let's spend small amounts of money to make our parks more usable — more picnic tables, grills, benches and water fountains. And how about keeping water in the toddlers pools through the August heat? Going door-to-door, we hear from YOU that the bicycle paths are popular! Congratulations to many groups for 10 years of hard work. Let's work to extend the paths to the other side of Nassau Street and provide routes to the train station and downtown.

HISTORIC COMMITMENT

We are dedicated to preserving Princeton's unique atmosphere. We need to revive the application for Federal and State Historic District registration and adopt flexible landmarks designation. Let's assist private efforts to identify our landmarks with signs.

TRAFFIC

Let's try to get the trucks out of our town. We need dedicated workers to pound on the State's door and demand the Princeton by-passes. In certain cases the routes need to be re-examined.

TAXES

The County takes 31% of our tax dollar. We propose an appointed liaison to keep Princeton citizens informed and to protest excessive spending. We will increase citizen participation by publicly discussing the tax rate implication of every new program. Whenever a capital project is proposed, the operating expenses connected with it should be publicly discussed.

QUESTION: Why do you plan to vote for Joseph Moore and Martin Lombardo for re-election to Borough Council?

PLACE: Princeton Borough

Maria Carroll
191 Spruce Circle

"I think that Lombardo and Moore and those other Democrats did a lot of good things. Mainly I liked the law to keep landlords from raising the rent too high. Naturally the Republicans voted against that one. Also they got a better housing inspection law and they are making it work. A lot of people rent in Princeton and they needed this protection."

John Fiabane
31 Leavitt Lane

"Most people are worried about taxes. I was glad when I heard that the Democrats helped keep the increase in Borough taxes down to the lowest level in six years, when the cost of everything else is shooting up. I am going to vote for Moore and Lombardo and I hope they can do as well next year."

Robert Mangone
78 Spruce Street

"I can't vote, but I hope they get re-elected anyway, because when we wanted a place to play basketball, they helped us to get it. Also, I like the idea of the bike paths."

Mary Tadlock
51 Clay Street

"It used to be that nobody at Borough Hall seemed to care for the older people, but I heard about that cross-town 62 bus they just started and I think that is a fine idea."

Lillian Gertel
42 Harriet Drive

"I think those two Republican candidates seem nice, but we know the Democrats did a very good job this year, so I think we should keep them in."

Jean Lewis
41 Fisher Avenue

"I am working and voting for Moore and Lombardo because I think it is important for them to stay on Borough Council. This last year, when the Democrats had a 4-2 majority on the Council, has produced more needed changes than we have seen for years. We got better police and fire protection, help for the elderly, bike paths, rent-leveling, better housing inspection, a renters' advisory office, open pre-budget hearings, all with the lowest tax increase in years. Joe and Marty have done a good job and deserve to be re-elected. Paid for by Princeton Borough Democratic Campaign, Box 481, Barbara Hill, Treas.

UJB Earnings Down 9%. United Jersey Banks reported a 9% decrease in per share income for the nine months ended September 30, compared with the same period last year. This compares with a 1% gain reported after the first six months of the year and an increase of 8% posted through March 31.

The statewide, multi-bank holding company reported income before securities transactions of $7,590,000, $1.41 per share through September 30, 1973, compared with $8,327,000, $1.53 per share for the first nine months of 1972.

For the third quarter of 1973, income before securities transactions was $1,930,000 or $.36 per share, compared with $2,766,000, $.51 per share for the same quarter in 1972. Net income for the third quarter was $1,283,000, $.24 per share compared with $3,246,000 or $.60 per share for the like period in 1972.

Company officials attributed the earnings decline to several factors resulting primarily from the government's anti-inflation efforts. These included the negative impact of the inverse relationship of the national and local prime lending rates to money market rates; the lack of anticipated growth in demand and savings deposits; the high proportion of loan commitments taken down and; the higher rates generally paid for time deposits since the revised Federal Reserve Regulation O became effective July 1.

consecutive quarterly increases: 5 cents for the first quarter, 7 cents for the second quarter and 10 cents for the third quarter or 22 cents for the nine-month period. This compares with 3 cents per share for the nine-month period in 1972.

EARNINGS IMPROVE

At New Jersey National. New Jersey National Corporation has reported consolidated net income of $3,019,686 for the nine months ending September 30, a 11 gain over last year's total for the same period.

Income before security transactions was $5,077,257. Net income per share on average shares outstanding was $2.98 compared with $2.46 for the first three quarters of 1972. The Corporation reports total assets of $714,321,437, up from $667,043,461 at September 30, 1972.

New Jersey National Corporation is the parent company of New Jersey National Bank and New Jersey National Bank of Princeton. The Corporation added a third subsidiary, Underwood Mortgage and Title Company of Irvington, during the third quarter of 1973. Underwood earnings are included in the Corporation's third quarter figures.

In addition, a definitive agreement has been reached with the $22 million Delaware Valley National Bank of Cherry Hill, N.J. for the acquisition of the bank on a one-for-one exchange of stock. The Corporation is now awaiting approval of Delaware Valley National Bank shareholders and the appropriate supervisory agencies.

Richard G. Macgill, board chairman of New Jersey National Corporation, comments that "the earnings outlook for the balance of the year, in spite of money costs and the uncertainties in money market conditions, appears favorable."

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP FARM NEAR PRINCETON

In the scenic Canal Road area on the way to Griggstown is a 46 acre tract with a fascinating remodelled building that could have been an early stagecoach stop.

The main building is renovated throughout and is currently divided into four rental units. The owner's apartment has a large eat-in kitchen, dining room, living room, three bedrooms and bath. The three tenant's units are one bedroom apartments each with an eat-in kitchen and living room.

The outbuildings include a two car garage with storage area, and a handsome red barn with six box stalls and six straght tunneling water and septic provisions for future use. The extensive white paddock, pony ring, and cleared hayfield make the property an excellent investment for the racing enthusiast.

The exceptional land has good frontage and is significantly cleared yet wooded enough so that development is facilitated for the potential builder of fine homes in a semi-wooded setting. Now is currently 1 1/4 acre. Fronting an open space in a historic area.

In the Princeton Western Section convenient to town and gown is a lovely Dutch Colonial style home with four bedrooms and two baths. The center hall floor plan has a living room with fireplace, elegant dining room with built-in china closets, a convenient modern kitchen, and a family room with great expansion possibilities.

$112,000

This Princeton Colonial near the lake has an elegant feeling that comes from a most thoughtfully planned addition. The living room with fireplace leads through a picture gallery to one of the most lovely dining rooms in town, with built-in china cabinets, bay window and french doors. The kitchen is super convenient and the family room well-removed from the formal living areas. Four bedrooms and two baths upstairs. A great family neighborhood.

Contemporary Mediterranean Villa

A unique contemporary villa is just a few minutes from downtown Princeton yet nestled in a Montgomery Township country setting overlooking a delightful stocked brook. Creatively designed and custom built the home is centered on a magnificent indoor 30'x60' atrium-greenhouse where a heated pool, fig tree, palms, and even a blooming bird of paradise can wisk one away to the Riviera or even St. Thomas. Opening on the courtyard is a living room with fireplace, dining room, family room with fireplace, eat-in kitchen and master suite with separate dressing areas and baths. There are 4 or 5 bedrooms in all and a three car garage. One of the few homes in this area where when winter comes you can love it or leave it.

One of the most exacting of all real estate jobs is the title closing. Your real estate man has duties which should facilitate this closing. First of all, he will show his interest by being present at the closing, and by offering his help in any way possible. He will assist in the clearing of title, supervise the delivering of necessary papers; as a matter of good practice, he will urge every buyer and seller to seek legal aid in closing the deal.

You will receive these benefits as a client of WALTER B. HOWE INC., 1 Palmer Sq. (924-0095), Pennington (737-3301 and W. Windsor (799-1100). Open 9-9. Sat. 9-5. Sun. 1-5 . . . all sizes, shapes and prices. Call and list your home with us for a last and profitable sale.

HELPFUL HINT: Every property has its good points — your real estate man can show yours to its best advantage.

WHO WANTS PRINCETON customers? Some business firms do and some don't these days. How to find the ones that do? 1400 of them—both out-of-town and local—offer you their services through the Classified pages of your Princeton Community Phone Book. 9-7-tf

(over-the-counter)

By virtue of a decision of the Appellate Division of the Superior Court, your pharmacist is now required to keep a drug profile record of your medication. Many pharmacies have been keeping such a record long before a regulation of the Board of Pharmacy made it mandatory, because a patient profile record system can save time, discomfort, or a life.

Today, many patients see two, three or a half dozen different practitioners of the medical arts, all of whom are licensed to prescribe medication. Frequently for one reason or another, these practitioners are not aware of medication which has been prescribed by another doctor. Sometimes two different drugs will conflict with one another; sometimes one drug will increase the action of another. Some foods will interfere with the desired action of a drug prescribed for you. Some over-the-counter "home remedies" will enhance or reduce the action of a prescription drug. Some people are violently allergic to certain drugs (e.g., penicillin).

Therefore, it is vitally important that your physician knows what medication you are taking prescribed by another practitioner, and it is equally important that your pharmacist knows it, too, plus any allergic reactions you may have had to foods, drugs, alcohol, etc.

If you are taking prescription medication, consult with your pharmacist before taking any over the counter drugs. He is as close as your telephone.
